

Noble Believes Eight American Fliers Alive In Soviet Camps

Ex-Prisoner Told Yanks In Captivity

BERLIN, Jan. 11 (AP)—A Detroit man back from slavery in the Soviet Union expressed the belief today that eight American fliers shot down off Europe in 1950 may be alive in Soviet prison camps.

The Detroit, John H. Noble, 31, spent 9½ years in Soviet captivity. As a prisoner at the Vorkuta slave labor camp he witnessed the 1953 revolt there. He said the slave laborers need "onl ya spark" to flare into open rebellion. He declared the forced labor brigades are restless, have rebelled in the past and are likely to do so again.

Noble added he had been told at Vorkuta that the American airmen were held in a Soviet prison. He called it common knowledge at Vorkuta that some Americans who came down in the Baltic Sea were in captivity.

A U. S. Navy Privateer, a four-engine plane, disappeared over the Baltic in April 1950, with 16 men. The U. S. government in notes to Moscow contended the crew apparently had managed to ditch safely because two partly inflated life rafts were found. The Soviets would concede only that they had fired upon an American bomber of the B29 type which, they contended, violated Communist territory.

Noble was released by the Russians here last Saturday along with Pvt. William C. Marchuk of Norristown, Pa. They had met a third American, Pvt. William Verdine of Starks, La., at Vorkuta. The Soviet Union informed the United States today that Verdine also will be released.

Marchuk now is in Army detention, facing a possible court martial for being absent without leave.

"He told me he got picked up in the Soviet sector (of Berlin) while drunk," Noble said.

Noble described to newsmen his four years in the notorious camp at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia, where the temperatures once hit 72 degrees below zero, and added quietly he lived through his ordeal only because of "confidence in God."

Noble said 100,000 men were involved in a strike which set off the giant rebellion at Vorkuta in July 1953. He said 110 inmates were shot on the spot, and 50 or 60 executed later. Another 500 inmates were wounded in the first minutes of the blowup.

Noble gave these added details: The strike in the coal mines—there are at least 50 in the area—and on construction projects was organized by followers of L. P. Beria, deposed police chief who was executed later by a Red Army firing squad.

Some of the secret police guards at the camp were part of the organization fomenting the rebellion. The aim was to stir up open revolt throughout the Soviet Union and overthrow the Malenkov regime.

In general terms, without giving such detail, the Malenkov government charged Beria with seeking to usurp power when he was brought before a military tribunal and sentenced to death.

Noble said he managed to keep out of the melee. The strike and revolt was concentrated mostly above ground. He was employed in the coal mines.

37' Chute To Safety

SEWART AIR FORCE BASE, Tenn., Jan. 11 (AP)—Thirty-four paratroopers and three Air Force crewmen, headed for Alaskan maneuvers, parachuted to safety here today when their C119 Flying Boxcar crashed and burned after take-off. Two airmen were still missing four hours later.

The troops aboard were members of the 508th Airborne Infantry Rgt. from Ft. Campbell, Ky., the same outfit involved when 23 soldiers parachuted safely to earth as their plane made a forced landing near Miles City, Mont., earlier today. Eighty Boxcars are engaged in "Operation Snowbird," taking off at 30-minute intervals in an airlift of 3,000 troops from Ft. Campbell for the joint winter maneuvers.

In the crash here the pilot, who held his crippled plane on a straight course for the emergency bail-out, was reported to have stayed with the craft as it plummeted to the ground moments later. But there was no official confirmation of this.

Jack Webb Weds Dorothy Towne

CHICAGO, Jan. 11 (AP)—Television detective Jack Webb, 34, and actress Dorothy Towne, 25, exchanged marriage vows in the penthouse of a swank, North Side hotel today. Webb, known for his poker-faced composure as Sgt. Joe Friday on the "Dragnet" show, said he was so nervous before the ceremony he cut himself slightly while shaving.

The ceremony, held in the penthouse apartment of James H. East, president of the Ambassador East Hotel, took 10 minutes for Superior Judge Henry L. Berman to perform.

Penn State Honored At Farm Show

HARRISBURG, Jan. 11 (AP)—Throng of visitors at the State Farm Show today joined the Commonwealth's farm industry in singing the praises of Pennsylvania State University for its service to agriculture.

Officials of the 29th annual farm classic estimated that more than 140,000 visitors moved through the tremendous 13-acre building to witness glittering displays and demonstrations built around the university theme.

The entire five-day exposition this year is dedicated to Penn State in honor of the school's 100th anniversary.

Highlight of the day-long program was the annual rural talent festival, tonight entitled "Song Of A Century" in honor of the university. More than 1,000 men and women from nearly all the state's rural and church organizations contributed to the colorful pageant.

On hand to join in celebrating the pageant was Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower.

'Influence' Fails To Get Elderly Man Another Drink

An elderly man laid a pistol on the bar and demanded a drink in a Stroudsburg tavern Tuesday night.

But he wound up instead with $10 fines for being drunk and disorderly.

Stroudsburg police said it was Robert Brundie, 75, who gave his address as 1230 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, who walked into a Main St. establishment about 10 p. m.

Brundie asked for a drink, but was turned down because he appeared to be drunk, police said. At that the elderly man hauled a rusty pistol out of his pocket and slammed it on the bar.

Then he asked for a drink again.

He was still refused the drink, and the bartender telephoned borough police.

Police arrested Brundie about 10:10 p. m. after he had pocketed his pistol and left the tavern still without that drink.

At the police station Brundie told officers he picked up the pistol on the seat of a car somewhere—he couldn't recall just where or whose car he was in, police said.

The pistol was unloaded and harmless. Police said it was an ancient English weapon whose firing days have long been over.

Brundie yesterday was fined $10 on each charge by Burgess Hal H. Harris.

John P. Robin Selected For Commerce Job

HARRISBURG, Jan. 11 (AP)—Governor George M. Leader today designated John P. Robin, executive director of the Pittsburgh Urban Redevelopment Authority, as his choice for State Secretary of Commerce.

Robin's job will be to try to attract new business to Pennsylvania and create conditions to keep industries in the state.

The job pays $15,000 a year. Robin will succeed William W. Behrens, former deputy secretary, replaced Andrew J. Sordani, of Wilkes-Barre, just a month ago. Sordani, a close personal friend of Gov. John S. Fine, had served from the beginning of the Fine administration.

Robin, 42, has been head of Pittsburgh's redevelopment program since 1948.

Leader said he considers Robin "an expert" in governmental administration and praised him as one of the key figures in Pittsburgh's improvement program.

Swarthmore Student Flashes Light On Sleeping Youth, Then Fires Fatal Rifle Shot

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Jan. 11 (AP)—A 22-year-old Swarthmore College student flashed a light into a dark dormitory room early today, spotlighted a fellow student and then fired a fatal rifle bullet through the sleeping youth's head in a fit of rage over a series of practical jokes.

This quiet little Quaker college what police said was its first murder since the borough was incorporated in 1893. Delaware County detectives arrested Robert Bechtel, a scholarship student from Pottstown, Pa., for the slaying of Francis Holmes Strozzer, 19, Akron, Ohio.

Detective Earl Allen said Bechtel, son of Helen Bechtel, a divorced waitress, waived a hearing when charged with murder.

Allen said Bechtel told him he was enraged over pranks other students played on him and was determined to get even.

The detective said Bechtel felt Strozzer was a ringleader of the Bomb Threat Laid To 'Crackpot'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—Police posted a guard about the home of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) today after his next-door neighbor reported she had received a telephone warning that "We are going to blow up Joe McCarthy tonight."

Reporters talked to the neighbor, Mrs. George W. Emmis, after friends of McCarthy told the newsman of the phone call.

Mrs. Emmis' home at No. 18, 3rd St., N. E., adjoins McCarthy's in a row of houses joined together.

McCarthy said he believed the warning came from "some crackpot."

"I wouldn't imagine this is something serious or they wouldn't have called in advance to advertise their plan," he said.

Pay Increase Requested For U. S. Employees

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today to give 1½ million government workers an average pay increase of about five per cent. The cost was estimated at more than 339 million dollars a year.

In two special messages sent to Capitol Hill, he also recommended a hike in postal rates to foot part of the bill and that the government contribute 55 million dollars a year to a new health insurance program for federal employees.

The Senate's majority leader, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), announced immediately he favored a raise for government workers but that he questioned the advisability of increasing postal rates. This appeared to be the view of many members of Congress.

A major aim of the administration's plan, the President said, is to bring average government pay and benefits more into line with standards prevailing in private industry.

Eisenhower vetoed a similar pay raise last August because the bill passed by Congress failed to provide revenue, including higher postal rates, to meet the increases and because he said it did not correct existing "inequities" in pay rates.

Some of the first reaction to the President's proposals came today from the National Federation of Post Office Clerks, which said the recommendations for postal employees was "a serious disappointment," and "so small as to be of little real help."

The President recommended: 1. An increase of about five per cent in the payroll for classified civil service workers, distributing an additional 202 million dollars. (Continued on Page Three)

Move To Oust McCarthy Fails

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—Republican senators divided up their minority seats on Senate committees today in a closed meeting which saw defeat of an effort to deprive Sen. McCarthy of his place on the Government Operations Committee.

Clifford Case, the new GOP senator from New Jersey who has been a critic of McCarthy, said he moved to strike the Wisconsin senator's name.

Sen. Bricker of Ohio, presiding, ruled Case was out of order on grounds that McCarthy had seniority for the post. Case told reporters: "There wasn't really any debate at all... for me to pursue the matter at this time would not be fruitful."

In fact, McCarthy wound up being one of only five Republicans allowed to hold three committee jobs—Appropriations, Rules and Government Operations. The other four with more than two committees are Langer of North Dakota, Jenner of Indiana, Mundt of South Dakota and Mrs. Smith of Maine.

Sen. Goldwater of Arizona was selected to be chairman of the 1956 Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee. He succeeds Sen. Dirksen of Illinois who will be up for reelection in 1956. Goldwater voted against censure of McCarthy in last fall's special session but supported President Eisenhower against McCarthy's subsequent charge that Eisenhower had shown weakness against communism.

Airborne Troops Advance On Route To Capital City

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Jan. 11 (AP)—Costa Rican troops clashed tonight with an armed force in North Costa Rica, a government spokesman said, near a town on a direct invasion route to this capital city.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Jan. 11 (AP)—Costa Rica said today airborne armed forces have seized several north Costa Rican towns and advanced on a direct invasion route to this capital city.

The government later charged "active aggression" on the part of Nicaragua, and said it expects "to receive military aid" from the nations of this hemisphere to "repel forces of invasion."

Costa Rica's available armed manpower was quickly mobilized. Officials said a break in relations between Costa Rica and neighboring Nicaragua appeared imminent.

Nicaragua countered with a statement saying the charges were foolish.

Costa Rican President Jose Figueres said Villa Quesada, a town of 3,500 about 40 miles this side of the Nicaraguan frontier, was seized this morning by a force that landed there in light planes. This was the first reported incident.

Maj. Roberto Fernandez, of the headquarters staff of the Civil Guard, said a detachment sent from San Jose made contact with the rebel group.

He said an observation plane sent over the area returned bearing bullet holes and reported scattered rifle and small arms fire. There was no estimate of the size of the force at Villa Quesada.

Foreign Minister Mario Esquivel called the Organization of American States in Washington in regard to expectations of aid and said Costa Rica "hopes for military assistance."

The OAS ordered an investigation in Costa Rica and Nicaragua.

At Managua, the Nicaraguan Foreign Ministry issued a statement asserting, "It is foolish to say that Nicaraguan revolutionaries or forces proceeding from Nicaragua have taken Villa Quesada."

The statement said the area separating Villa Quesada from the Nicaraguan border is "almost an impenetrable jungle... To move revolutionary forces from Nicaragua to Villa Quesada is absurd."

At the United Nations in New York, the Rev. Benjamin Menez, Costa Rican delegate, said after a telephone talk with Figueres that diplomatic relations had been broken with Nicaragua. Menez said "enemy forces" had crossed the border from Nicaragua and a battle was presumed to be in progress. He asserted the attackers were backed by Costa Rican Communists.

One source here said a force moved out of San Jose last night in trucks and cars and began an uprising against the Figueres government.

Its major proposal involves shifting nearly all the financial responsibility for an interstate highway network to the federal government. The commission placed a priority tag on this "strategic network," covering some 40,000 miles and joining together 42 state capitals and 90 per cent of all cities over 50,000 population.

Details of the network were not included in the report, but the commission said it would serve 65 per cent of the nation's urban areas and 45 per cent of the rural areas.

Blockade Advocated

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—The nation's top military man and a prominent Republican senator today called for a blockade of Red China if all else fails to win release of imprisoned Americans.

But Secretary of State Dulles, employing a Biblical phrase, said the United States would be "slow to anger" in facing issues which could explode the peace.

Supporting an Allied blockade as a last-ditch maneuver were Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.).

T-B Society Drive Deficit Set At $156

SLIGHTLY less than 2,000 persons who have not made any sort of settlement for Christmas Seals they received from Monroe County Tuberculosis Society also represent a $156 shortage in the $10,000 budgeted goal sought by the society.

Yesterday, sufficient persons settled to bring the total cash returns up to $9,844.

Out of the carefully budgeted $10,000 quota the society has already purchased a $5,000 chest X-ray machine to provide chest X-rays for every patient admitted to the hospital here—a service never before offered.

These X-rays will detect tuberculosis and other chest diseases.

Settlements by some or all of the 2,000 people who received seals can be made at TB Society headquarters, 621 Sarah St., Stroudsburg by mail or a personal visit. Any settlement will be received with appreciation by the office.

Soviet Regime Faces Risk Of Rebellion Each Time It Eases Reign Of Repression

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

IMPORTANT inferences may be drawn from information brought back by a young American from the horrors of a Soviet slave labor camp in the arctic. The most important of these seems to be: A totalitarian regime, based primarily on repression and terror, is caught in its own trap.

The post-Stalin regime in Moscow has found in many instances that even if it should want to open a safety valve and relax its total grip on the population, it cannot do so without grave risks. To people for so many years deprived of liberty, a little freedom is like a fuse to a dynamite keg.

John H. Noble of Detroit was eyewitness to events in the notorious Vorkuta prison camp. He has described a rebellion there which had to be met with armed force.

The significant thing about the rebellion was that it came not at a time of greatest suffering and oppression, but when the Communist regime, worried over the effects of Stalin's death on its own internal situation, was trying to open a safety valve. An amnesty had been declared, freeing tens of thousands of prisoners who had been sentenced to hell on earth for offenses which no normal nation could consider serious crimes. There was a notable relaxation on many fronts in the Soviet Union.

But there was also a bitter struggle for power going on. The interment of millions of Soviet citizens in slave labor camps had built up a vast bitterness among the population which smoldered under the gray ashes of resignation. Fanned to flame, that could be a powerful political instrument.

Noble said he and other inmates of Vorkuta believed the rebellion there was inspired and organized by followers of L. P. Beria, once the czar of the slave labor system, after he was boxed in and arrested as a plotter against the government.

Desperate men are easily stirred to rebellion if they can see even the gleam of hope through a black curtain of hopelessness. Beria personified the evil that had been visited upon them, but they and millions of others in slave camps must have noted the amnesty after Stalin's death and other signs of weakness and indecision among the dictator's successors. They would grasp at any straw, however slender.

There is always the possibility, of course, that the Russians might deliberately plant rumors, such as the Beria connection with the Vorkuta revolt, with prisoners marked for release. But one thing they cannot hide: For years their regime has been repression feeding sued on information supplied by young Katz, who broke his bonds and fled unharmed from his alleged kidnaper in Matawan Township, Monmouth County. Prosecutor J. Victor Carton said Staikos readily admitted the plot and explained that he thought the boy's father, Bernard Katz, a real estate dealer, was extremely wealthy.

Staikos had met young Katz when he worked as a cook and Joel as a waiter at a summer camp at Lackawaxen, Pa.

Staikos informed authorities, "God has forsaken me for the past 31 years" and said he was wanted for a year-old $1,500 jewel robbery in Miami, Fla.

YMCA Reelects Nine Directors, One Trustee

MONROE County YMCA board reelected nine directors and re-named a trustee at a meeting last night in Wyckoff's tearoom.

Directors returned to their posts were: Thomas Kistler, Edward C. Hess, Theodore Hoffman, James T. Kitson, Mrs. William Toewe, A. J. Zabriskie, Arlington W. Williams, and Frank L. Stackhouse.

Horace G. Walters was re-named a trustee of the county YMCA organization.

With J. Albert Groner presiding in the absence of Holt Wyckoff, the president, the meeting was opened with invocation by Rev. Frank H. Blatt. The report of the nominating committee, with Earl Groner as chairman, followed.

The financial report by R. M. Houser, treasurer, showed a balance of $61,893.82 in the building fund (No. 2). Houser provided this a year among about one million workers.

Raises in this category would range from $125 a year in the lowest grade to $800 in the next to top rating. There would be no increase for the top grade of $14,800 a year.

2. Pay raises totaling 129 million dollars annually for nearly half a million mailmen and other postal workers.

Postal pay legislation, however, would be tied in with increases in the postal rates for first, second and third class mail.

Eisenhower didn't specify by how much the rates should rise, but the administration's position has been that the three cent letter rate should go up to four, and the six cent air mail rate to seven cents.

3. Creation of a health insurance program which would cover about half a million federal employees. The employees themselves would pay about two-thirds of the cost, with the government contributing about 55 million dollars a year.

Meanwhile, Sen. Millikin of Colorado, an influential Republican leader, predicted that Congress would pass legislation this year raising the salaries of senators and representatives and all federal judges. The question was discussed at a closed conference of all GOP senators today, Millikin reported.

In his State of the Union message, Eisenhower urged Congress to approve "a long overdue increase" in their own and judicial salaries "to a level commensurate with their heavy responsibilities."

Members of Congress now get $12,500 a year plus a $2,500 personal expense allowance. A bill already has been introduced in the House to raise the total to $25,000 a year.

The President recommended in his postal message that Congress create a permanent, independent commission to adjust postal rates in the future.

In a checking account at First Stroudsburg National—$2,023; savings account, same bank—$15,104.16; a savings account in Stroudsburg Security Trust—$10,066.66; savings account in East Stroudsburg National Bank—$10,000; savings account in Monroe County National—$10,000. An additional $9,700 was listed as "first mortgage" and $5,000 was listed as "Series A Notes—Custody of First Stroudsburg National Bank."

Houser said $19,971.37 had been paid out to contractors and other parties for services involved in the new building's construction. Parties receiving money from the fund included John Goffredo and Sons, Bensinger and Bensinger, Paul L. Edinger, H. C. Archibald Co., Matthew Kline.

In a report on general activities, John R. Wilson, general secretary, termed the December, 1954 balance better than the end of 1953. The financial gain was due to "a little better return" on some Y activities during the year than original estimates had indicated.

The Y Day Camp, Wilson said, had totaled $1,671.95 in receipts whereas the estimate had been for only $900.

Membership receipts, budgeted at $1,400, actually reached $1,618, Wilson noted. Some other receipts fell below the estimated level, however, he said.

"Some items we fell down on, such as rentals of building and donations. We estimated $700 and took in $520," Wilson said. "We also had hoped to get $13,241 from the Community Chest. Actually we got $10,168. The gas station income has been turned over to us for the past five months, which totaled $450."

"Operations," Wilson went on, were curtailed to some extent so that salaries instead of being $12,260, as estimated, were $10,333.47."

the hall, apparently in retaliation for the strict discipline he sought to maintain.

A graduate of Pottstown High and a private prep (Hill) school where he was 14th in a class of 231, Bechtel was attending Swarthmore on a scholarship. He earned meals by working as a bus boy at a restaurant near the campus. Police said the junior psychology student, who planned to be a Unitarian minister, had been discharged from the Air Force in 1953 after 43 days service because of a nervous breakdown.

Allen said this what happened at the college last night, and early today:

Bechtel, after finishing his two-hour tour of duty as bus boy at the restaurant, borrowed an automobile from a fellow student. He said he was going home to Pottstown, 45 miles away, to get some books and papers.

He told his mother the same thing after arriving home. But instead of obtaining books and papers in his room he picked up a .22 caliber rifle and a revolver. He also took four boxes of ammunition for the rifle, 134 cartridges. He took a flashlight and buckled an ammunition belt around his waist.

Arriving back at the college, Bechtel went to his room where he left the revolver. Then he started down the third floor corridor, trying doors. He found one unlocked, room 305 where Strozier and his roommate, Roger L. Witt, 19, Fanwood, N. J., were asleep.

Bechtel flashed the light into the room, spotted Strozier asleep, returned the flashlight to his pocket, lifted the rifle and fired into the darkened room. Strozier, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Strozier—his father is a vice president of Ohio Edison Co.—was struck in the temple. He died instantly. Witt was unharmed as the bullet zipped

Johns Pleads Guilty To Two Charges

Sentencing Scheduled In February

AN EAST Stroudsburg man whose teeth helped trap him pleaded guilty in county court yesterday to car theft and failing to stop at an accident scene.

He was Frank H. Johns Jr., one of several defendants brought before President Judge Fred W. Davis for hearing or sentencing. Other cases involved juveniles, speeding, non-support and arson.

Johns lost his four front teeth in an accident in the East Borough New Year's Eve, while police said he was driving the car of Ralph VanEusik without permission.

Police said Johns drove the auto into a parked car near St. Matthew's Church, then ran away. Police found the false teeth in the car, later found the owner. The teeth proved a perfect fit, and charges were filed.

Sentencing of Johns was set for the February term of court. He was ordered held in county jail.

Sentence of Julian Rake, Kresgeville, on an arson charge, was postponed yesterday because of the serious illness of one of his children.

Rake, 48, father of six, pleaded guilty in December to setting fire to his Madison House Hotel in Kresgeville Sept. 19 and causing $4,000 damage. President Judge Fred W. Davis deferred sentence until yesterday.

After hearing of the illness of Rake's child, Judge Davis moved sentencing forward to the regular February session of argument court. Rake was returned to the county jail.

Edward Maciejczak of Nanticoke and Angelo Scandara of Wyoming paid speeding fines of $10 and costs. The Nanticoke man's violation occurred last July 19 at Pocono Pines. Scandara was clocked over the speed limit from Tobyhanna to Mt. Pocono.

District Attorney Elmer D. Christine settled the non-support case of Mrs. Anna Deubler of the Mount Pocono area in a conference with her children. Six members of the Deubler family will contribute to the support of the 90-year-old woman by paying various monthly sums to probation officer Elizabeth G. Martin.

In the other support hearing, Victor Gunther of Pocono Summit was ordered by the court pay $15 per week to the probation officer towards the support of child by his first marriage.

Gunther told the court the child is now 12 years old and has resided at his grandmother's and a foster home in Union, N. Y., most of his life. Gunther's first wife died and he has since remarried and lived in the area for the past seven years.

He mentioned he was now "in between jobs" with a New Jersey contracting firm and would be able to pay only $7 per week during the winter months. But Judge Davis ordered the full payment after Gunther said he averaged $212 pay per week when working. A New York welfare group had requested the $15 fee for the boy's care.

The delayed case was that of William Chalmers, formerly of Mount Pocono and now of Philadelphia. He must face charges of aggravated assault and battery, non-support and violation of probation. The case was delayed in order that the court may handle the charges simultaneously.

The juvenile case involved two teenage boys from Stroudsburg and Bushkill. The pair had been guilty of recent breaks and stealing a car, recorder show. Both were released in custody of the parents. Christine said the matter will be continued until their future behavior is observed.

Judge Davis announced during

Directors Elected To Serve Coming Year At Annual Meeting Of Bank Shareholders

THE FOUR AREA banks named directors to serve in 1955 at the annual meeting of shareholders yesterday. Each will have reorganization meetings in the near future to elect officers.

The Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. appointed all 16 directors to serve again this year. This group includes: Lloyd S. Altomose, Gerald M. Anderson, Kenneth W. Barthold, M. F. Crowe, Paul L. Edinger, Charles S. Flagler, J. Albert Groner, Howard L. Keiper, Frank S. LaBar, Frank E. Michaels, Leon Pearsall, Walter S. Peeney, H. G. Sanborn Jr., C. D. Shull, Rappa S. Sieg and William A. Weber. Officers will be named by the trust company at a meeting Thursday.

Raymond Price Jr. was the only new director named by the First Stroudsburg National Bank. Those re-elected were: Charles Bensinger, R. C. Cramer, Stewart S. Shafer, John S. Shinn, Edward C. Hess, Edward F. Smith, R. M. Houser, F. L. Stackhouse, James G. Kitchen II, R. C. Turn, W. R. Levering, A. W. Wendley, M. L. Serfass and A. J. Zabriskie. This bank will select officers next Tuesday.

President Frank D. Heller of the Monroe County National Bank praised his group for a successful year. He announced the reports from Dec. 31, 1953 to the end of '54 showed a gain over $600,000.

The increase was realized mostly from deposits.

Monroe County National chose its directors to serve in 1955. They are Heller, Russell C. Hughes, Arlington W. Williams, G. Willard Stettler, Dale Learn, Charles F. Grace, Merle E. Stevenson, Graydon D. Hoffman and Verner M. Reynolds. The bank will vote on officers Monday.

The East Stroudsburg National Bank re-named all its directors. That list includes the following: Charles Thompson, T. J. Breitwieser, William Seguire, Theodore Metzgar, Judge Fred W. Davis, Fred A. Wyckoff, Gaylord Carpenter, Clifford Cramer and Jesse Flory. Its reorganization meeting is scheduled for Monday.

Legislature To Be Asked To Approve Toll Highway

FOUR PENNSYLVANIA legislators are set to co-sponsor a bill for the building of a toll turnpike from the Stroudsburg to Sharon.

The $300 million project has been proposed by the Keystone Shortway Association. The road would begin at or near Sharon and run east in a straight line to link with Delaware Water Gap bridge.

The four legislators who said they would co-sponsor the bill in both houses of the General Assembly are: Senators M. R. Derk of Jersey Shore, and George B. Stevenson of Lack Haven; and Assemblymen Albert E. Strausser of Berwick, and Harris G. Breth, of Clearfield.

The bill itself will be drafted by the end of this week, according to Z. H. Confair, Williamsport, chairman of the association.

It has been estimated that the shortway would save 100 miles highway travel between Cleveland and New York City over existing roads; and 50 miles between Cleveland and Philadelphia by using the shortway and the Northeast Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike which will run between Scranton and Philadelphia.

Trailer Fire Blamed On Wiring

STROUD TOWNSHIP firemen answered an alarm at the Adams and Nebel Self-Service Market at 1316 N. Fifth St. yesterday, but the fire was already out.

The fire had begun as a result of faulty wiring in a house trailer next to the store in which the Adams family lives. The partner, Nebel, punched a hole in the paneling and, after shutting off electricity, poured in some water. This put out the smoldering insulation and ended the threat.

Damage was small.

A Great Show

Even Hollywood superlatives were not extreme, if they had been applied to the Pennsylvania State Farm Show, that truly great exhibition which attracted more than 130,000 persons when the doors opened Monday morning for a five-day run.

Not only is the big show a Pennsylvania affair of magnitude and importance, but in the years since its small beginnings it has gradually attracted national and even international attention to the point that many foreign lands are sending representatives to observe it.

It seems only a few years ago when the State Farm Show was an embryonic affair housed in a number of small halls and meeting places in various sections of Harrisburg, but with the passage of time the entire exhibition finds itself housed in the magnificent buildings constructed by the commonwealth, permitting all exhibitors to display their prize-winners while holding association meetings of the three score organizations gathered in the capital city.

It used to be said that the "Greatest Show on Earth" applied to only one thing, the circus, but now that the Pennsylvania State Farm Show has reached its present point of development we believe the slogan should be shared.

All through the weekend automobiles and trucks poured into State Capital in ever-increasing numbers so that Monday, when the exhibit officially opened, the area was bursting at the seams with competitors, exhibitors, salesmen, foreign guests, and untold numbers of Pennsylvania farmers and their families come just to see the annual display.

It's a great week for the State Farm Show and for all who share a proper pride in Pennsylvania's place in the world of agriculture.

Centennial Convention

When the bid of Philadelphia to gain the 1956 Republican National Convention was placed before the committee meeting in Washington on Saturday, the City of Brotherly Love was given a hand by United States Senator Edward Martin who cited the special significance of next year's gathering because it will be the centennial anniversary of the first Republican National Convention which met in Philadelphia in 1856.

The senior senator from our state had a good argument in reciting the history of that earliest GOP convention, but he was equally fortified with additional arguments as he emphasized the importance of Philadelphia as the birthplace of American freedom.

George Sokolsky Says...

Granting That Major Foundations Have Erred, They've Done Much More Good

The hearings of Part I of the Tax-Exempt Foundations by the Reece Committee consist of 913 pages; the Report of the Committee fills 432 pages of hard reading. Nobody can possibly read all the hearings and the full report in a few hours and then write a comprehensive article on what this Committee heard and did and proposes, except what can be absorbed at a glance while seeking what one wants to accept.

This much must be said: Granting that the Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations here and there erred, particularly in grants to such organizations as the Institute of Pacific Relations, the amount of good they have done in the world is beyond calculation. Rockefeller money in medical research and education and Carnegie money in education have provided benefits to the human race far beyond measurement in dollars. This goes back to the beginning of this century, under the leadership of Drs. Abraham and Simon Flexner and Alexis Carrel and a host of others who devoted themselves to the obliteration of disease and the prolongation of human life. This work continues to the present moment and any study of the Foundations which ignores it is inadequate.

The same cannot be said of the Ford Foundation which has devoted itself to politics, that is to current questions that have a present political implication.

If Rockefeller and Carnegie grants to individuals and organizations work out that way, it is incidental to important projects of permanent value. When the Ford Foundation matures and rids itself of opportunism, it too may use its funds for less temporary values. In fact, the only justification for freeing Foundations from the burdens of taxation which the rest of us have to carry is that the work they do is of permanent social value.

The study of the Foundation, as an institution, ought not to be based solely on errors of judgment or faulty operations, but also upon the value of a reserve of private capital to be used for the public advantage. Were it not for the legal institution of the Foundation, many businesses and private fortunes would be dissipated by punitive tax laws and their proceeds would have gone down the drain in the profligate and often pointless expenditures of government bureaucrats whose doctrine has not too rarely been to spend for the sake of spending. If there is a peril to the nation in the existence of Foundations, it is in the failure of the Treasury Department, which has supervision over them to the extent that it can withdraw from them tax exemptions, adequately to supervise their expenditures to make certain that exemptions are not evasions. For instance, expenditures directly or indirectly for political advantage cannot be included in any statement of justifiable tax exemptions, but when Foundations contribute to hospitals, schools, colleges and churches, to medical research, to the prevention of disease and the elimination of affliction, no one can quarrel with them. It is not understandable how the Fund for the Republic comes within this category. An excellent example of how Foundations get into trouble by extending funds for current problems is in the quarrel between the Carnegie Foundation and the American Bar Association over the Genocide Convention. The Carnegie Foundation gave the American Bar Association a grant to study genocide, a very vexed problem. What the American Bar Association did about this displeased the Carnegie Foundation. The Reece Committee report says of it:

"Without going into details of the controversy, which involved some rather sharp correspondence, we conclude from the facts that Mr. Johnson's irritation stemmed from the Bar Association's having failed to condemn the Genocide Convention." (Joseph E. Johnson is President of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.) This controversy was, in many respects, silly and a negation of the independence of scholarship. Apparently, the American Bar Association did not receive a grant to study the problem of genocide but a subvention to favor the Carnegie Foundation's particular views on the subject. That is not scholarship; it is bribery and an excellent example of the fault in using vast accumulations of wealth to influence or even control public opinion on current problems. This function should clearly be forbidden by law, because if Foundations are permitted to use their enormous wealth as public opinion molders, it could produce an unwholesome conformity and orthodoxy in this country.

A. No. If a man can buy an icebox on time why can't he buy an interest in Standard Oil. I think it as natural for a man to want dividends as much as iceboxes.

Facing Hopeless Problems Often Brings Settlements

Not everybody looks at a thing in the same way. This is a lucky break for the automobile industry, among others.

Before long now the last of the 1953 models will have been introduced, and a handsome lot of cars they are, I must say. It's a hard man to please who wouldn't be glad to own any one of them.

But the more I look at them the more I realize what a tough assignment the automobile designers have. Every year they have to put together new models that will please both the people who are drooling for new cars and the people who have decided to get along another year with their old cars.

The first group ogles and nods with delight while the salesmen point out the sensational improvements that make the new models radical departures from anything the manufacturers ever built before.

The second group eyes the new model narrowly and notes with satisfaction that the changes, after all, aren't very conspicuous. Take away the wrap-around windshields, the new motors and the flashy colors—and spatter them with a little mud—and you could hardly tell them from last year's job, at a distance.

Thus the new car gives satisfaction both to the man who is sick of his old car and to the man who is content with his old car—or at least realizes he'd better be.

Yet both men are looking at the same thing. This peculiar psychological quirk has countless other applications. Some people look at the record of the Eisenhower administration and are deeply disappointed in Ike as a President because he did this and so and didn't do that. Others look at the same record and are convinced that Ike is the best President that ever was, because he did the same this and so and didn't do the same that.

Some people look at an abstract painting and are carried away by what they see in it. Others look at the same painting and congratulate themselves that they are sane enough not to fall for such nonsense. So much of what we see or experience is like that—like one of those geometric figures the psychology textbooks use to illustrate optical illusion. You look at it and would swear that it's facing west. Then pretty soon, in spite of the fact that you haven't taken your eyes off it, it's suddenly facing east.

This phenomenon is what I, for one, am counting on for eventual solution of the international problems that currently have us all baffled and worried. Hopeless as they may look at the moment, if we keep staring at them long enough they will suddenly seem absurdly simple and we'll wonder how we could have overlooked the solutions so long.

If it doesn't work out that way, sue me.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Revenue Commissioner Faces Tough Schedule

Washington, January 12—Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews is on a tough spot.

Justice and Treasury department authorities are deliberating whether he should or should not testify before a federal grand jury in Omaha, Neb.

For weeks it has been secretly pondering a number of tax scandals that were exposed by a House Ways and Means Subcommittee several years ago. High officials in the Truman Administration were directly involved in these sensational investigations. Government attorneys are now seeking indictments based on them.

Members of the potentially-spectacular Omaha grand jury have indicated a desire to question Andrews. But he has not been subpoenaed. The Virginian is in no way personally involved in these long-pending cases. There are no charges against him.

The jurors want to talk to Andrews about two matters: (1) The extent and effectiveness of the reorganization of his department in high places of Revenue officials who are connected in one way or another with alleged violations.

What this secret grand jury does could have important bearing on Andrews' continuance as head of the Revenue Service.

Reason for this explosive possibility is Senator John Williams (R., Del.).

The indomitable and indefatigable crusader against tax frauds is primarily responsible for the Omaha grand jury's investigation. Williams, who made an unprecedented record as a one-man scourge, went to President Eisenhower personally and enlisted his help to get this action.

Williams' colleagues on the Senate Finance committee describe his attitude towards Andrews as "neutral"; neither for him nor against him; withholding judgment until the full record is clear.

Cross-Fire—White House insiders say Williams complained about delays in utilizing a new law he put through Congress last summer empowering the Justice Department to prosecute any federal official whatsoever.

Williams' chief aim was to enable the Justice Department to act independently on tax frauds without first obtaining Treasury approval.

One matter Williams cited to the President was a Pittsburgh situation. Williams had made charges against Revenue officials there, but nothing was done about them by that agency. When he turned the same evidence over to the Justice Department, it got indictments and convictions.

At the President's direction, Assistant Attorney General Warren Olney, head of the Criminal Division, swung into high gear.

The FBI swooped down on a number of major Revenue offices throughout the country and carried off certain files wanted by Olney. They dealt with cases investigated both by the Ways and Means Subcommittee and Senator Williams. This evidence has been placed before the Omaha grand jury.

The jury has also interrogated high Revenue officials.

One of them resigned last month. He is Frank Lohn, veteran career employee, who was promoted to Regional commissioner in 1953. Revenue authorities refuse to say what has been done about Lohn's resignation.

The grand jury is also summoning former Revenue officials; among them James Finnegan, one-time Collector at St. Louis, who is serving time on a tax conviction.

The jury is closely scrutinizing Democratic contributions. Olney has Democratic National Committee reports on these going back to the 1948 campaign. Both contributors and former Democratic officials are being quizzed, particularly on alleged tax kickbacks.

Meanwhile, Commissioner Andrews is grappling with another headache. He is in the middle of a bi-partisan cross-fire on Capitol Hill.

Powerful Republican senators are sniping at him because of refusal to bow to their patronage demands. And Democrats are gunning for the Virginian because of disapproval of aspects of his reorganization of the Revenue Service, particularly the decentralization of the Review Division. Democratic critics view this shift as opening the way to laxness in scrutinizing business returns.

Andrews has long been plagued with personal problems. He has had several chief counsels, and the key job is again vacant. The last incumbent, Daniel Taylor, Chicago attorney who was appointed with the backing of Senator Everett Dirksen (R., Ill.), quit after a disagreement over his authority.

Similarly, Norman Sugarman, Assistant Commissioner for Technical Matters, has quit. A Democratic hold-over, he, too, differed with Andrews on policies.

Professional Nurses Have Major Goals

—by H. G. Heller

Those of us who've never required the care of a professional nurse and many who have, probably never thought that in addition to an excellent professional training, these people continue to promote the cause of their profession and its high standards even as they serve.

Right here in Monroe County nurses are organization for that purpose. They are affiliated with the Pennsylvania Nurses Association, a constituent of the American Nurses Association.

From the grass roots level here right to the top the organization is designed for the advancement of nursing, governed and supported by licensed professional nurses of the state. They serve to promote good patient care by fostering high standards of nurse practice and promoting the welfare of nurses. Here is their program:

Works with allied groups to meet total health and nursing needs.

Cooperates with Pennsylvania State Council of Civil Defense in planning for and promoting care in times of emergency.

My New York

New York—Things one New Yorker thinks about:

Today's nomination for the world's bravest man is Andy Mulrain, who is this city's sanitation commissioner. Andy is attempting to launch a drive to clean up the town's messy streets. "It saddens me to say," he reported the other day, "that New York rates perhaps No. 1 in the world as the city having the least amount of public co-operation and, therefore, the highest percentage of avoidable dirt on the streets." He plans to have a thousand special cops patrol the town and hand out summonses to litterbugs. At that, he's kinder than Edna Ferber. Few will forget Edna, returning from Europe in April of 1953, and mumbling bitterly that New York was "the most disgustingly filthy city in the world." She was right, of course. So what else is new?

There have been few genuinely constructive societies put together recently, but I have high hopes for a new one. It's being formed by Neil, the 165-pound St. Bernard on the Topper TV show, who blew into town this week with the lofty aim of starting the Society for the Prevention of Disparaging Remarks About Dogs.

He hopes to wipe out such cracks as "a dog's life," "dirty dog," and so on. "How would you like it," he said in an injured tone (listen, I didn't say this; I only wrote it), "if we dogs referred to someone homely as being a 'real person'?"

Entertain In Relaxed Household

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

IS THE American housewife a good hostess?
You'd think so because she certainly loves to entertain.
But "what she doesn't know about being a hostess can drive you mad," says industrial designer Russell Wright who designs cutlery, china, glassware, furniture and a "hoard of other functional things for the housewife's "easier living". Most of his designs are in the modern manner.

Wright feels she tries, as a matter of fact sometimes tries so hard it makes her guests sweat. She wears her "dying gladiator" smile, he says, refusing to let guests help because it "really isn't any trouble."

Only a silly hostess will keep up that kind of pretense in today's servantless house, says Wright. Why not let the guests carry the dishes out to the kitchen or empty the ashtrays occasionally or put the chairs at the dinner table?

Then there's the other type of hostess who lets you help "but oh my what a production." She supervises everything you do in that world shaking manner, and you can't even wipe a dish without having her mastermind the performance.

She and the eager beaver hostess are just as bad as the brave little woman who does it all, Wright explains.

"The eager hostess who empties ash trays every five minutes, shoving coasters and tables around almost as often can provide a nerve-racking experience for you."

He suggests that she equip herself with nice large ashtrays and stainproof table tops. Then she and her guests can relax.

Even the lack of system in arranging the broom closet, utensil drawer or spice shelf can get on a guest's nerves if he is permitted to help. "Why," asks Wright, "Don't housewives realize that other people might need to use their cupboards, closets or shelves sometime and will have to cope with their mad clutter?"

He takes exception, too, to the hostess who begins that "absolutely divine new dish" and hasn't bothered to read the recipe carefully, checking to see if she has ingredients, who uses too many dishes and cooking utensils. He suggests the single casserole dish dinner as just as chic as the 5-course dinner for family and friends. And why not skip butter knives and butter plates? he asks.

Neat as a pin types who like decorating fads and doodads manage to keep Wright ill-at-ease also. He finds it "a great temptation to clutter and mess up these over-decorated living rooms or to sweep all the junk out of sight."

Living room furnishings should be able to take anything in family living, from a spilled bottle of soda pop to a gravy stain. Wipe it up immediately and there won't be a messy room to welcome guests, however.

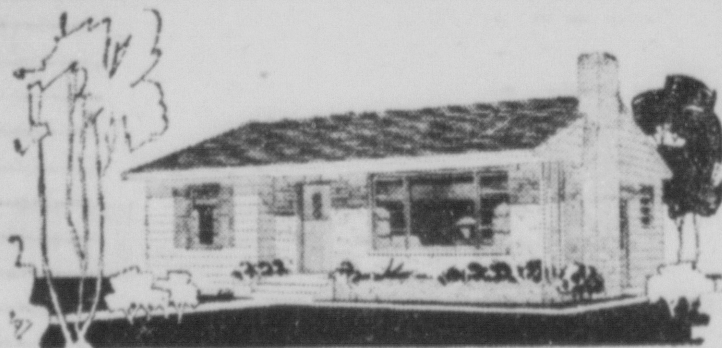

Wright is all for the housewife who keeps lists, menus and system in her kitchen. In particular he thinks a card file or notebook listing her favorite menus with a recipe and a date number would solve a lot of problems. Says he:

"When father must prepare a meal for himself a properly run household should have a menu all ready with the dishes referring to numbers in the recipe book. It'll be simple for him then to follow directions."

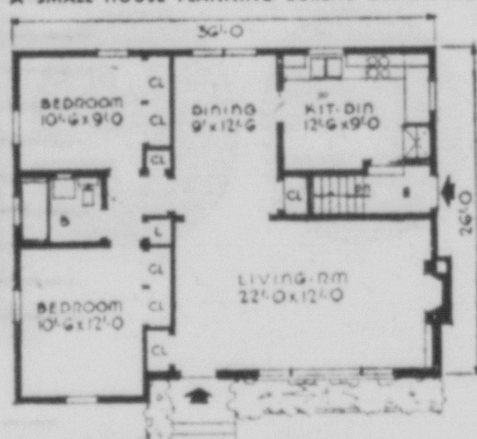

Wright says he really likes the American housewife, although there is room for improvement. He just wishes she'd learn to relax—and then maybe her guests could, too.

Linoleum For Shelves

STRIPS OF linoleum make good coverings for shelves in the kitchen and bathroom. Linoleum won't pick up dirt and grease readily and it's easy to clean. For best results, it should be cemented to the wood with linoleum cement.

Questions Answered

PLANNING TO have new slipcovers made for a sofa and two chairs, as well as new draperies for my living room, I would appreciate suggestions as to what type material to use. The room's wallpaper is light green with a pattern of white leaves shaded with a light touch of orchid and yellow. The rug is mauve.

C.T.G.

For your draperies I would suggest yellow; for the slipcovers—wine with orchid trim for the sofa; one chair, green, the other, yellow and white stripe.

Please give me color suggestions for a five-year-old girl's room. The furniture is maple; the wallpaper pink and blue flowered and the woodwork cream. What would you use for curtains, bedspread, dressing table skirt and throw rugs?

K.L.

Pink ruffled organza curtains would be nice. For the bedspread I suggest a patchwork quilt with a blue dust ruffle. For the dressing table skirt, white dotted Swiss trimmed with rose wool ball fringe and for the throw rugs, rose.

I have a large, square living room. The furniture is mahogany. A lounge chair is upholstered in dark green, the sofa, in dark green and chartreuse plaid, the draperies, in the same plaid and the rug is gray. I would like a suggestion as to what colors to use for the walls and ceiling.

T.M.P.

Cocoa brown would be a good color for the walls. For the ceiling I suggest pale yellow.

Suggest colors for the linoleum and woodwork in a bathroom? The tile on the lower walls is pink and the upper walls are papered with a pattern in pastel shades of green, blue, yellow and pink on a white background. I would not like white woodwork.

W.E.R.

Paint the woodwork the same shade of pink as the tile. For the linoleum I suggest royal blue.

A one-room apartment with a studio couch is to be redecorated. One wall will be papered with a pattern in blue and rose on brown background. The other three walls will be plain blue. Two chairs are slipcovered with a floral-and-leaf design in green, white, chartreuse, maroon and pink on a gray background. The couch cover is maroon. Could I use a gray rug and crimson or chartreuse draperies?

D.E. Gray would be a good color for the rug. Instead of crimson or chartreuse, a soft shade of rose would be a better color for the draperies.

Use Right Method For Paint Job

THE METHOD by which paint is applied will determine whether the job has a workmanlike appearance, or is streaked and unsatisfactory. An outside wall should be painted in horizontal bands of strips, the width being determined by the distance the painter is able to reach from his ladder or scaffold. Work starts at the highest point and moves down.

An inside wall is painted in vertical bands or strips from ceiling to floor, starting in a corner. Ceiling painting starts in corner and proceeds in bands or strips across the width of the room.

Paint is always spread in small areas and brushed out well in all directions to make a smooth even coat. Final strokes should all be in one direction. The brush should not be dipped into the can more than half its length.

Each new section should be blended with the section just painted so there will be no streaks.

When painting trim, a sheet of cardboard or sheet metal held against the area being painted will protect the wall from unsightly smears. The guard should be wiped frequently to prevent paint seeping behind it.

Paint should be kept well stirred in the can.

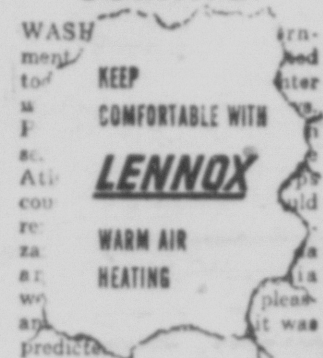

Overhead Doors Modernize Garage

OVERHEAD doors mark a garage as modern. Anyone who has battled with snow, piling up behind swinging garage doors, appreciates the ease of unlocking and lifting up doors from the inside. Overhead types are easily installed with their running tracks, pulleys and balances. When properly hung, a child can lift them, but when locked no jimmie can open them, without tearing the garage apart.

House Settles Slowly

THE BUILDER of the average new home must assemble more than 3200 component parts before the job is completed. Many of these parts change with the weather so that it may take a year or more before it is completely settled.

New Houses In Korea Aimed At Fighting Red Menace

NEW HOUSES are now to be used as weapons against communism. The Republic of Korea and New York's fabulous real estate man, William Zeckendorf, have worked out designs for minimum homes and apartments as standards for the reconstruction of some 600,000 dwellings destroyed by war in South Korea.

These homes will be built for less than $1,500 each and sold for as little as the equivalent of $5 in cash and $5 per month. So any American, who would like to put a homeless Korean family in a new house can do so by sending $5 to the American-Korean Foundation, 303 Lexington Ave., New York—and $5 per month will keep that family in its new home.

These will be interesting houses, as you might expect for almost anything Zeckendorf has to do with. He is the man who originally assembled all the land which made the United Nations site possible in New York City.

Accustomed to doing things in a big way, he went to Korea in August 1953 as a member of a mission sponsored by the American-Korean Foundation. What he saw there convinced him, he says, "that American business could effectively aid an ally by making its know-how available."

Zeckendorf conferred with Dr. Syngman Rhee, president of the ROK, and arranged for an architectural and engineering team to be formed to work out a home building program as an anti-Communist force.

Six Korean experts were sent to New York. For eight months they have been working with T. J. Palmer, architect, and I. M. Pei, chief designer for Webb & Knapp, Inc., the firm Zeckendorf heads.

The result is a pilot plan for a house the way Koreans want a house to be planned and built. It is novel from our American point of view. It is a working man's house, built of mud blocks, similar checkmate communism's pie-in-the-sky invitations to national poverty.

Plans and models for villages of these little houses, grouped to form private courtyards and gardens, were unveiled recently in the spectacular penthouse offices of Webb & Knapp of New York's Madison Avenue. This is where the architects and engineers from Korea have been working. Maj. Gen. Charles W. Christenberry, president of the A-K Foundation was there.

"This is not a relief project," the general emphasized. "It's part of a policy of training leaders for the reconstruction."

Effect Is Restful

WHEN selecting the paint colors for your walls and woodwork, as well as the hues for your furnishings and accessories, remember that closely related colors are restful.

WIL-BOND before Repainting

A glossy varnished or enameled surface should be cleaned and dulled before repainting. It's easy with WIL-BOND. Just dampen a rag with this liquid and rub down the surface. Off come wax, grease and dirt—and the gloss is thoroughly dulled. The new finish spreads smoothly and adheres perfectly—no danger of a streaky, unsightly result.

Trees, Shrubs Available From State Office

PERSONS wishing trees for reforestation and shrubs for wildlife food should order at once for Spring planting. District Forester E. C. Pyle disclosed yesterday.

Trees of only a few species are now available. They include white pine, red pine, Norway spruce, white spruce, pitch pine, banks pine, hemlock, European larch, Virginia pine, black walnut, black locust, sugar maple, red oak, tulip tree. No transplants are available.

Shrubs still available include multiflora rose, silky dogwood, arrow-wood, Tatarian honeysuckle, Japanese lespedeza. The shrubs are for planting in rural wildlife areas and not for use on town lots where commercialization is possible.

The forest trees are available for reforestation purposes only and can not be used for Christmas trees or ornamentals. An agreement is necessarily signed to this effect before trees will be shipped. They are to be grown into wood products such as fence posts, mine props, ties, paper pulp wood or general lumber uses.

Applications and general information can be secured from the Department of Forests and Waters, 1081 W. Main St., Stroudsburg.

When you want to Go -You're gonna Go!

No ifs, ands or buts about it.

When you give the gun to a 1955 Buick with Dynaflo Drive,* you move.

In the instant you push down the pedal, you get the action you've called for—immediate getaway from a standing start, or immediate safety-surge out of a tight spot on the highway.

It's not magic, this thrilling and pulse-quicken response—though it feels like the closest thing to it.

It's a principle of the modern airplane, brought for the first time to an automotive transmission.

Twenty "variable pitch propellers" inside the Dynaflo unit itself can change their angle—like the propeller of the airliner can change its pitch from take-off position to cruising position.

And what this brings to you—at the wheel of a 1955 Buick—is the nearest thing to flight on wheels. Far better gas mileage in your normal driving and cruising. Spectacular new response when you want it for extra quick getaway or emergency acceleration.

But all this, mind you, with the absolute smoothness that is constant in Dynaflo Drive.

Surely, a demonstration of Variable Pitch Dynaflo is a Buick must this year. We'll be happy to do the honors—and show you, in the doing, what a whale of a buy you make here. Drop in this week, won't you?

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick

State FFA To Honor Two From County

TWO MONROE Countians will be honored for their work promoting agriculture today at the State Farm Show.

Walter H. Sebring, assistant county superintendent of schools, will receive the honorary Keystone Farmer Degree.

Roger Christman, 18, of Kresgeville, will get the regular Keystone Farmer Degree in the same ceremony in the Agricultural Forum at the show.

A 1954 graduate of Polk High School in Kresgeville, Christman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Christman. He has held high posts in the Polk and Area FFA groups.

Sebring, a Tannersville resident, is the second county official to be honored with the farming degree in the same number of years. John C. Litts, county superintendent, got the degree in last year's show.

Among the other area residents slated for honors at the show today are a Pen Argyl school director, the superintendent of the Bangor school system and a senior student in that school.

Larry Yetter is the student from Bangor who will receive the degree. He is now serving as president of the chapter at his school.

Robert Harrier, of the Pen Argyl school board, and Donald E. Keat, Bangor superintendent, will be given honorary degrees.

Both local residents—Christman and Sebring—have been highly active in support of agricultural projects in Monroe County.

Christman served as president of the Polk FFA chapter last year and as vice president of the Area FFA for 1953-54. He has exhibited crops and stock in all local farm shows, including the West End fair at Gilbert and the annual Wyckoff-Sears exhibition in Stroudsburg.

This year, Christman will be doubling in brass. Not only will he get the Keystone degree—the highest conferred by the State FFA organization—but he will also play in the State FFA band. He was a member of the band last year, too.

Socialist Elected W. Berlin Mayor

BERLIN, Jan. 11 (AP)—Dr. Otto Suhr, 60, a Socialist, was elected mayor of Soviet-surrounded West Berlin today.

The City Parliament voted 104-18 in favor of Suhr. He succeeds Dr. Walther Schreiber, a Christian Democrat who has held office since Oct. 22, 1953.

Suhr's election came four days after the Socialists and Christian Democrats agreed to run the city government on a coalition basis. This was done to present a solid front to the Communist regime of East Berlin.

Prize-Winning Exhibit Earns $50 Award

Polk High School Future Homemakers who helped prepare the third prize-winning window exhibit at the State Farm Show will return home this week with $50 in prize money and words of encouragement and praise from Farm Show officials and visitors.

The girls are Shirley Griffith, Estella Kreechel, Marian Berger, Cinderella Kresge, Lucella Smale, Mildred Burger, Fern Rudelitch.

The exhibit—a demonstration of the uses of Swedish weaving called "Create and Make"—was the outgrowth of a class unit in the weaving method as a leisure time activity.

Articles in the exhibit include aprons, place mats, napkins, a shirt, blouse, curtains, guest towels, bags, collar and cuff set and a pillow top. The girls used huck toweling for the basic material.

Mrs. Marian Mackes, Polk vocational homemaker instructor, and Miss Miriam R. Lark, county vocational homemaker adviser, planned the window exhibit and were in charge of setting it up at the Harrisburg show.

Farm Show Throngs Pay Tribute To Penn State

Eisenhower, president of Penn State and Dr. William Henning, who will become Secretary of Agriculture in the cabinet of Gov.-elect George M. Leader when the new chief executive is inaugurated next Tuesday.

"It's always the greatest show on earth," Eisenhower said, "and this year it's the best ever."

"Everywhere I go I see Penn State and I like that," he added.

In a presentation studded with music, action and costumes, amateur participants retold the story of the university's founding in 1855 as the Pennsylvania Farmers' High School through to its present-day status.

Not to be outdone, the university itself featured a large display in the center of the main exhibition building depicting some of the ways it has served the state during its 100-year span.

The exhibit contrasts the Commonwealth's farm life of 100 years ago against the 2½ billion dollar industry it is today.

Ancient work in dairying stood side by side with modern practices in the state's largest farm industry branch. Nearby are portrayals of the 1855 poultry industry and its 1955 counterpart—a 250 million dollar a year business in Pennsylvania.

The exhibit is staffed by Penn State personnel, all of them specialists, who are available for detailed discussion on any phase of the state's vast farm empire.

Meanwhile, visitors not only threatened attendance records but also attacked food consumption marks. The five statewide farm organizations sponsoring sales reported that first-day crowds at yesterday's opening devoured more than 10,000 baked potatoes—traditional farm show repast—to set the highest tally in the 24 years that the baked tuber has been featured at the exposition.

Visitors also put away 7,000 glasses of milk, 6,000 turkey sandwiches, 10,000 fresh eating apples and 7,500 cups of apple juice.

Mixed Prices Prevail At Market Close

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (U.P.)—The stock market's strong recovery drive paused briefly today for profit-taking.

Selling was centered largely in the railroad division which scored sensational gains in the rally.

Actually the list was rather mixed with the price trend irregular. Losses for the most part went to between 1 and 2 points at the outside. Gains did as well with some shooting on out ahead of the average range.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell away 20 cents at $154.20. In the two previous days it advanced $3.70 as compared with $5.00 lost in the two-day break immediately preceding.

Most of today's decline in the average was lodged in the railroad component which lost 90 cents. Utilities were down only 10 cents while the industrial section closed unchanged.

Furthermore, there was a fairly even distribution between gains and losses with 494 stocks selling higher and 562 going lower. Altogether there were 1,273 individual issues traded, only five less than yesterday. Sixty-nine stocks touched new highs for 1954-55 and two reached new lows.

Action of the volume heartened bullish brokers. It came to 3,680,000 shares as compared with 4,200,000 shares traded yesterday when the market was strong. In other words, selling tended to diminish as prices fell back.

New York Central headed the most active list for the fifth straight day, but today it was lower for the first time. The stock closed off 1 1/2 at 25 1/2 on 78,000 shares.

Allegheny Corp., which controls Central, was second most active off 1/2 at 8 1/2, and it was followed by Pennsylvania Railroad off 1/2 at 24 1/2, Curtiss-Wright off 1/2 at 18, and Montgomery Ward up 3/4 at 8 1/2.

Among stocks declining with net losses were Southern Railway off 2, Northern Pacific 1 1/2, Rock Island 1 1/2, Nickel Plate 1 1/2, Standard Oil 1 1/2, American Telephone 1/2, Climax Molybdenum 1 1/2, U. S. Steel 1/2, Chrysler 1 1/2, Boeing 1/2, and Radio Corp. 1/2.

Gainers included American Metal up 1/2, and Bethlehem Steel 1/2.

The American Stock Exchange was mostly lower on volume of 1,370,000 shares as compared with 1,830,000 shares traded yesterday.

The bond market was mixed. U. S. government issues in the over the counter market were lower.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The meetings are really getting in the swing these days and the members right along with them. However, it does take some fancy footwork, at times, I imagine. Take Miss Marie Brown, for instance.

She and her film on polio were at Clearview PTA for the opening of their meeting and then at St. Matthew's Parents a little later that same night.

Call a publicity chairman for the story on one meeting, and she has a couple of other meetings all waiting for you. That's the way it goes right down the line. We may not live so long but we're living double lives these days.

But speaking of living long we might all take heart from two hardy souls who not only live active lives but long ones, too. There's John Edinger, 95 yesterday, and John as you or—well, spry than I. Certainly a brisk walk over town isn't in my repertoire these days, but it is in John's.

Then there's Mrs. Blakeslee, 100 tomorrow, and the whole community all set to celebrate with her.

So maybe it's just as well that we don't let our joints get rusty or our brains either. The human machine is one machine that seems to endure much better in use than standing idle.

Listen To Bobby Westbrook on the Party Line over WFTO every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 10:05 a.m.

You can make a quick sauce for plain cake or cottage pudding by heating a cup of apricot preserves with a little lemon rind and lemon juice. Top the dessert with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream. This amount of sauce will make enough for four servings of cake or pudding. The sauce may also be used over baked custard.

Giardello Pays Fine

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11 (AP)—The Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission today suspended midweight contender Joey Giardello for 75 days and then, in the same breath, reinstated the fighter on the payment of a $500 fine.

Frank Wiener, chairman of the commission, said that Giardello's actions outside of the ring were detrimental to the best interest of boxing. However, Wiener said:

"In this case there is a difference between Joey Giardello and an ordinary boxer. Giardello has been set up as an example to the youth of America, and since he is a very young man, he can still become a very useful citizen by showing repentance and by resolving to show the people of this nation, where he is widely known, that his escapades with the law are ended."

Wiener said that the commission had decided to give the boxer an opportunity to prove himself and to continue active in the ring, by allowing him to pay a fine in lieu of his suspension.

Giardello's suspension and fine resulted from an assault on a gasoline station's operator last Oct. 29. The boxer is slated to be tried on assault charges. Giardello denies that he was involved in the brawl.

ESSTC Football Squad Elects Revello, Martucci Co-Captains

JIM REVELLO and Carmen Martucci, regular linemen for the past two seasons, were named honorary co-captains of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College football team for the season completed last November. Both are seniors.

Polk Nips TTHS In Thriller, 84-82

KRESSVILLE—Polk High outlasted Tobyhanna Township in a possible record smashing Monroe County League basketball game here last night, 84-82, to even its circuit record at two wins and a pair of defeats.

The total of 166 points scored in a single game may very easily be a Monroe County League record for a joint scoring effort.

Outcome of the hotly contested ball game was in doubt right up to the final second, as Willard Costanzo, a graduate of Old Forge High School, who he first made a name for himself in football. Although hampered by two injured knees most of his collegiate career, Revello has appeared in virtually every game since making the varsity. He is five feet, seven inches tall and weighs approximately 165 pounds.

Martucci, a graduate of Lehigh-ton High, at one time opposed Stroudsburg High on the gridiron. Carmen is five feet, 11 inches tall and weighs approximately 190 pounds.

Revello was a candidate for the ESSTC wrestling squad, but his injured knees prevented him from making the squad. Martucci plays third base on the Normal Hill baseball squad.

Martucci won a tackle position on the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference All-Star team last season.

The selection of Revello and Martucci as co-captains was by a near unanimous margin.

Both teams battled on even terms through the early moments of the final stanza, but a field goal by Sherwood Smith, with slightly more than a minute remaining in the game, put Polk ahead to stay.

Polk made 36 field goals and TTHS 34. The home team converted 12 of 24 foul shots, while TTHS made good on 14 of 31 free throws.

TTHS used only five players in the game and Polk, hampered by fouls at times, sent six players into action.

Tobyhanna Township won the junior varsity tussle, 22-19.

NCAA Football Rules Group Works In Shifts

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP)—The NCAA Football Rules Committee was caught in a "sucker shift" itself today before getting into a discussion on how much the movement of linemen can be restricted without interfering with modern offensive football.

Starting its second day of deliberations, the committee found it had been assigned a meeting room too small to hold all the members, subcommittee men and consultants. It took two shifts before they wound up in one of the hotel's larger ball rooms.

Today's discussion centered around three subjects, all concerned with linemen:

1. The false start and "sucker shifts."
2. The movement of linemen into the backfield to protect the

Mountaineers Drop Second Loop Contest

SLATINGTON—Stroudsburg High, showing its poorest shooting ability of the current campaign, went down to its second Lehigh Valley League defeat of the infant campaign last night as Slatington breezed to a 63-47 verdict here at Smith Hall.

Stroudsburg, scoring only 14 points in the first half, waged an uphill fight in the third and fourth quarters, but the spurt came far

The Mountaineers, shooting wildly and making countless mental mistakes, were never in the ball game during the first half as Slatington rolled to a 17-8 edge at the end of the first period and a 35-14 lead at the halfway mark.

Stroudsburg made good on only two of 22 field goal attempts during the opening half, one two-pointer coming in the first round and the other in the second. The Mountaineers made good on 10 of their 17 foul shots in the first half, six coming in the opening period and four in the second stanza.

Dave Nevil, Doug Shook and Dick Little led a second half surge that found Stroudsburg outscoring Slatington in the third quarter, 14-9, and equalling the defending champion's output in the final eight minutes, 19-12.

The only time Slatington's coach Lloyd Williams substituted during the ball game was when Maurice Schleicher committed his fifth personal foul. Coach John Kupiec sent 15 Mountaineers into the battle.

Slatington held a wide 26-15 advantage in field goals and made good on 11 of 21 charity tosses. Murrell Eckhardt, a holdover from last year's District 11 champion, led Slatington in scoring with 24 points at night. Nevil was top for Stroudsburg with 21 markers, while Shook and Little added 11 and 10 respectively.

Slatington made a clean sweep of the program by capturing the junior varsity decision, 60-40.

Yale Presents New Contract

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 11—Yale tore up Jordan Oliver's contract today and gave its head football coach a new one to run through 1957.

The new agreement replaced the three year contract made following the 1952 season, which could have run to December 1955.

Oliver, who returned here from his Los Angeles home over the weekend was "pleased beyond measure," he said.

Varsity 'E' Club Completes Plans For Local Appearance Of Tulsa Choir Late This Month

FINAL PLANS were discussed for another Varsity "E" Club fund raising venture at a regular meeting of the organization at East Stroudsburg High School last night.

The new Varsity "E" Club program will feature the University of Tulsa Choir at East Stroudsburg Junior High School on Thursday, January 27.

All proceeds from this venture will go toward payment of a debt still existing on the lighting system constructed at Memorial Stadium last summer.

The Tulsa Choir is one of the outstanding radio and concert groups in the country and is directed by Arthur D. Hestwood.

Admission for the local appearance of the outstanding singing organization is one dollar for adults and 50 cents for students. The program will get under way at 8 p.m.

The local appearance of the Tulsa Choir is made possible through the cooperation of Tom Waring, well known music and sports figure, with the Varsity "E" Club.

Andy McCarthy will head the publicity department for the program.

Kirk Shaw, president of the Varsity "E" Club, announced last night that another meeting of the club will take place next Wednesday, at East Stroudsburg High School, at 7:30 p.m.

Jack Kist, well known football mentor at East Stroudsburg High, will be the guest speaker. Kist has requested that all ex-football players from Eastburg be present at the meeting. The club is hopeful of beginning a "Football Youth Program."

Colored movies of the East Stroudsburg-Stroudsburg football game played on Thanksgiving Day will also be shown at the next gathering.

The Varsity "E" Club, pleased with the results of its Christmas Basketball Tournament, plans a bigger and better tournament next year.

Pocono Bows To Barrett Five, 48-39

TANNERSVILLE—Barrett High earned a tie for first place with Coolbaugh in the Monroe County League last night by gaining a 48-39 basketball decision over Pocono, here on the losing quintet's home court.

Barrett moved into a five-point lead at the end of a slow first period and held the upper hand the remainder of the distance although both teams picked up 14 points in the final stanza.

The loss dropped Pocono into a second place tie with Chestnut Hill and Poik. Before the firing got underway last night Pocono, Chestnut Hill, Barrett and Coolbaugh were all deadlocked for the number one position.

Barrett, with Phil Price and Reed Gravel doing the bulk of the work, clung to an 8-3 lead at the end of the opening round and to a 21-15 advantage at the halfway mark.

The visiting charges of Coach Joe Murray added three points to their lead with a 13-10 scoring bulge in the third quarter and then made certain of victory as each team scored 14 points in the last eight minutes of play.

Barrett held a 19-11 upper hand in field goals and converted 10 of 26 foul shots. Pocono hit the mark on 17 of 37 charity heaves.

Price paced the Barrett attack with 19 points, while Gravel added 16. Larry Buiz and Stan "Chick" Roeder, with 10 and nine tallies respectively, were tops for Pocono.

Pocono saved some face by winning the junior varsity encounter, 48-34.

Mountains Loop Tilt Postponed

TOMORROW'S scheduled Pocono Mountains Basketball League game between the Stroudsburg Poconos and Barrett has been postponed, it was announced last night by Tom Shiffer, coach of the Poconos. Barrett reportedly won't be able to play a home game until February 1.

Shiffer is now searching for a non-league game to replace the postponed contest.

Wynn Not Pleased With Terms

VENICE, Fla., Jan. 11 (AP)—Early Wynn, the Cleveland Indians star pitcher, isn't too happy about the new contract he received in the mail today from his bosses.

Wynn said "I'm very disappointed," then quipped: "I think Hank Greenberg must have gotten my contract mixed up with Ralph Kiner's. I didn't ask for a cut."

Wynn didn't get a cut but neither did he get as much as he was looking for.

MONDAY's wrestling match in which East Stroudsburg State Teachers College turned in a 37-2 win over Elizabethtown College was the best showing by a Normal Hill mat squad ever witnessed by this scribe. It is also the best opening day performance by any ESSTC wrestling team since this reporter has been covering the local athletic scene. The Warriors were in complete command and undoubtedly won the student body with their showing.

Members of the ESSTC football squad have decided to purchase jackets on their own initiative. The decision was reached in order to denote the fact that the Warriors shared first place in the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference—Bloomburg and West Chester last football season. Oscar Lipenstein, athletic director and gym team coach at ESSTC, was back on the job yesterday after a rough battle with the gripe. Six members of the ESSTC gym squad went to West Chester Monday night to see the touring Swedish gym team in action.

If the person who saw that a letter was placed on my desk Monday afternoon, without my knowledge, will report to the office and sign the letter in my presence I will gladly publish it. Although I am quite sure I know who composed the letter, it still must be signed, even though the signature doesn't necessarily have to be published. If not signed in the next day or two the letter will be tossed in the waste basket.

Prior to last night Palmerton had won all 11 of its basketball games and while keeping its perfect record intact scored 834 points against 499 for the opposition. The Blue Bombers averaged 75.8 markers a ball game in the first 11 contests, while the opposition has a 45.3 average. Palmerton plays Stroudsburg High School on the W. Main St. court next Tuesday.

Bobby Gall, Muhlenberg College forward and former Bethlehem High basketball star, is a nephew of Pete and Jerry Tyerman, both well known former athletes in this area. Gall scored 25 points against Bucknell last Saturday. Denny Roth, former Lehigh star, tallied 20 points for the Mules in the same game. The Elizabethtown College wrestling squad that bowled to ESSTC on Monday, bowed to Temple by a much closer score, 25-11. Elizabethtown had three matches before facing the Warriors, who were making their first mat appearance of the season.

Damascus High spent $138 for transportation to the recent East Stroudsburg Christmas Basketball Tournament. The Demons finished as the third best club in the tournament and last Friday won over Lake Ariel, 27-20, on a last second field goal by Fred Schmuckenberg. Damascus appears to be headed for its best season since Carl Bell took over the coaching duties at that school. The Demons have a record of five wins and the same number of setbacks at the present time.

The Bellmea haven't won more than seven encounters in the last five years. Friday's victory was doubly sweet for Bell, as he is a graduate of Lake Ariel High. Carl is also a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Damascus has a record of two wins and a pair of defeats against Wayne County Conference opposition at the present time. Moscow, the team that won the East Stroudsburg tournament, is one of the favorites to cop the Wayne County Conference title this season.

Thursday's meeting of the Stroudsburg Little League is one of utmost importance. Plans will be made final for a clinic featuring major league scouts and a discussion of ways and means of making the 1955 campaign the most successful in history. What has happened to Biddy Basketball in Stroudsburg? I hope the venture will be renewed when the Monroe County YMCA makes its gymnasium available to basketball once again. Biddy Basketball used to be a Lions Club project.

Although Ralph "Tiger" Jones has been campaigning in the middleweight ranks for some time, this is the first occasion in which he has worked at a training camp. In the past Jones has limited his pre-fight workouts to gymnasiums throughout the country. Jones is one of three well known fighters currently drilling at Harry's Farm. The other two are Jimmy Carter, lightweight champion, and Lulu Perez, well known featherweight contender. Jones meets Sugar Ray Robinson in Chicago a week from today.

East Stroudsburg Teachers Oppose Scranton Today

Warriors In Search Of First Victory

EAST Stroudsburg State Teachers College returns to the basketball wars tonight after a lengthy layoff because of the Christmas-New Year holidays and will stack up against the University of Scranton on the spacious Scranton Catholic Youth Center court.

The Warriors, coached by Jerry Palaia, will be seeking their first win of the current campaign to go with a pair of setbacks. The defeats have been inflicted by Millersville, currently leading the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference, and Wilkes College.

Scranton, on the other hand, is in the midst of a six-game losing streak and is currently featuring a record of three victories and seven setbacks. The Royals were running real "hot" early in the campaign before dropping a narrow decision to Seton Hall. Since that time tonight's host club has been unable to find a winning combination.

Ray Kaseman, one of the better cagers in the eastern section of Pennsylvania despite his lack of height, will lead the victory-hungry Warriors into Scranton tonight, determined to break the losing habit at its present total. Kaseman will anchor the Warriors at center, while Nick Gatto and George Heidenreich, a pair of veteran guards, open hostilities in their usual positions. Wilmont Smith and Charley German, former Whitehall High star, will handle the forward spots at the opening whistle.

Jack Newell, former Stroudsburg High star, is virtually certain of seeing action, as are Lee Hill, Jack Burke and Tom Spillane.

Two games are on the agenda today. The junior varsity squads of the two schools will clash at 6:45 p.m. and the main event is on the agenda for 8 p.m. Although Scranton has lost seven games to date, the Royals face one of the toughest schedules in the east. Among the Scranton opponents this season are Seton Hall, St. Joseph's, Temple, Muhlenberg and Lafayette. The most recent Scranton defeat was a 67-43 affair at the hands of Moravian.

Joe Pitt and Bob Belser are the two chief offensive weapons to be presented by the Royals, who are coached by Pete Carlismo.

Stroudsburg Junior High Wins, 45-25

STROUDSBURG Junior High School swept to its second basketball victory in as many outings yesterday when the Mountaineers took the measure of Lehigh Junior High, 45-25, on the winning team's home court.

The outcome of the game was never in doubt as the undefeated charges of Coach John Whitehead streaked into a 23-2 lead at the end of the first period and coasted the remainder of the distance.

Stroudsburg enjoyed a 20-6 advantage at halftime and a 37-11 lead at the three-quarter mark. Lehigh dominated the last quarter against the Stroudsburg reserves, 14-8.

The winning team held a 20-11 edge in field goals and made good on five of 11 foul shots. Lehigh converted three of 10 charity tosses.

Scoring laurels for both squads were well divided, with no fewer than 11 Mountaineers producing points.

'The Stilt' Sets Record

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11 (AP)—Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain, a seven foot, one inch schoolboy scored 74 points today for a new Pennsylvania state basketball scoring record.

The agile Negro dumper in 36 field goals and two fouls while leading Overbrook High School to an overwhelming 127-59 victory over Roxborough in the Philadelphia Public High School League. The old state record of 71 points was held jointly by Chamberlain now at George Washington University. Chamberlain tied Holup's 1950 mark last year.

Kentucky Continues To Rate As Number One Cage Machine

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press

THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY remained the nation's No. 1 college basketball team today in the weekly Associated Press poll, but rival Southeastern Conference teams will have a chance in the next few weeks to knock the Wildcats from the top rung.

Kentucky hits the road for five straight conference battles, starting with a game at Tulane Saturday. These games not only will affect the ranking of Coach Adolph Rupp's crew, but will show whether Kentucky can nail down another conference crown.

A total of 104 votes were cast by sports writers and sportscasters in the poll, which was based on games through last Saturday. Exactly half of the ballots named Kentucky No. 1, in spite of the fact Georgia Tech squeaked out a 59-58 stunner over the Wildcats Saturday.

On points, Kentucky leads with 895, while right behind in second place is North Carolina State, which got 22 first place votes and 743 points.

North Carolina State, advancing from third place, displaced Duquesne, upset Saturday by St. Francis (Pa.). Third, fourth and fifth places are held by three powerful independent teams. Duquesne, LaSalle and San Francisco, Missouri is No. 6, followed by Illinois, George Washington, Utah and UCLA.

All of the first 10 have a busy week in prospect. The second 10: Maryland, Dayton, Richmond, Minnesota, Niagara, Alabama, Purdue, Southern California, Iowa and Louisville and Auburn (Ia.).

This was believed to be similar to the estimated $25,000 plus five cents for each admission over one million that Richards received before leaving the Sox to become boss-man of the Orioles.

Rookies Make Early Show

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP)—The bright young rookies of the class of '55, soon to make their bid for big league jobs, already are stealing the headlines in the Caribbean winter baseball leagues.

Men like the New York Yankees' Elston Howard, the St. Louis Cardinals' Ken Boyer and Bill Virdon, Pittsburgh's Bob Clemente and Brooklyn's Chico Fernandez have been attracting raves from the scouting brigade.

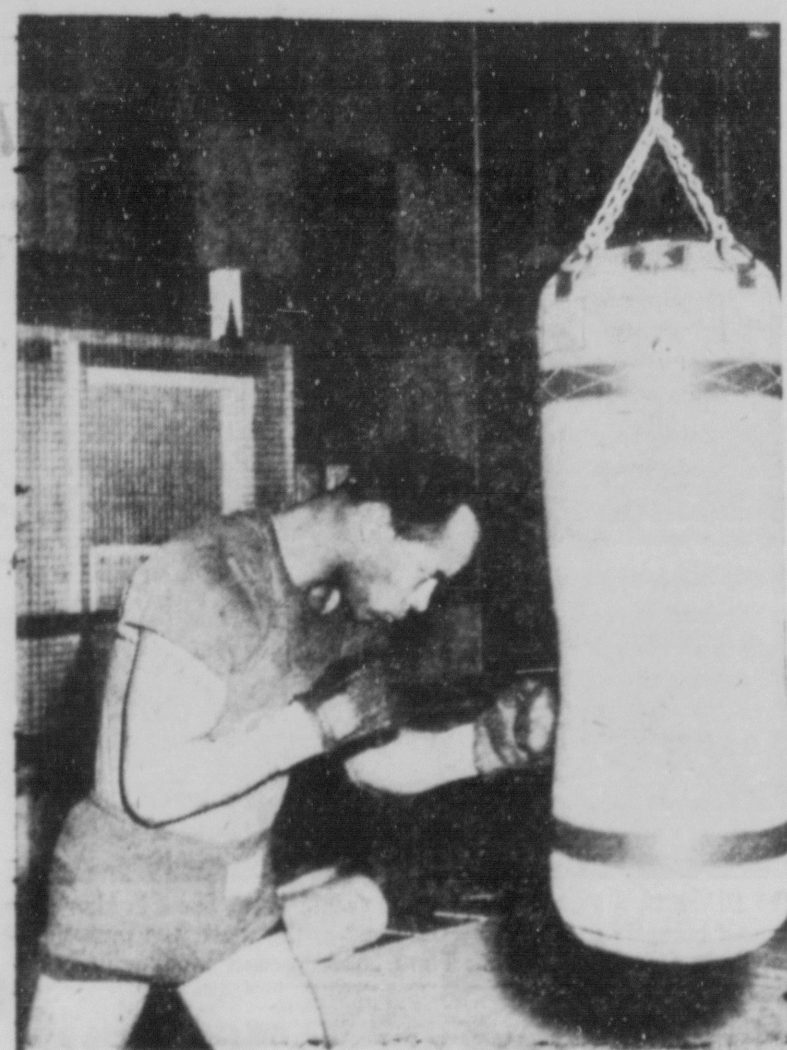

Clemente, the No. 1 draft by Pittsburgh from Brooklyn's Monrovia farm, has been giving Willie Mays, the New York Giants' ace, a battle for the batting crown in Puerto Rico, hitting about .365. Both are with the Santurce team, managed by Herman Franks, Giant coach. Mays, incidentally, just returned to Puerto Rico but expects to finish his winter season Sunday. Mays is hitting around .390.

at Chicago and Cincinnati at Milwaukee.

The World Champion Giants will open at home April 14 with the Dodgers furnishing the opposition. On the same day, Philadelphia will be at Pittsburgh, Milwaukee at St. Louis and Chicago at Cincinnati.

An oddity in the schedule shows Cincinnati at St. Louis for a single game on Labor Day (September 5). Otherwise holiday doubleheaders are listed for Decoration Day (May 30, Independence Day (July 4) and Labor Day, all of which fall on Monday.

The May 20 pairings have Pittsburgh at Brooklyn, Philadelphia at New York, St. Louis

VEETERAN—Mel Brown, veteran middleweight who served as Willie Troy's sparring partner at Harry's Farm recently, is shown above working on the heavy bag prior to one of his ring drills. Brown, a native of Minnesota, has boxed in 19 countries in addition to the United States.

Bangor Girls Fall Before Bethlehem

BANGOR — Bethlehem Catholic inflicted the second straight East Penn Girls' Basketball League defeat on Bangor yesterday by a 51-28 count. The game was played here on the Bangor High court.

The Bangor lassies now have a record of no wins and two defeats in league play and have defeated Slatington in a non-circuit outing. Anette Sullivan, six-foot sharpshooter, paced Bethlehem to victory with a total of 25 points. She tallied 12 times from the floor and once from the foul line. Judy Morgan's 10 points were next in line for the visiting squad.

Kay Hughes was the big gun for the Bangor lassies as she ran up 16 points on eight field goals.

The game was limited to four six-minute quarters instead of eight-minute periods as required by regulations. The game was shortened because Bethlehem arrived 30 minutes late due to bus trouble.

North Carolina State, advancing from third place, displaced Duquesne, upset Saturday by St. Francis (Pa.). Third, fourth and fifth places are held by three powerful independent teams. Duquesne, LaSalle and San Francisco, Missouri is No. 6, followed by Illinois, George Washington, Utah and UCLA.

All of the first 10 have a busy week in prospect.

The second 10: Maryland, Dayton, Richmond, Minnesota, Niagara, Alabama, Purdue, Southern California, Iowa and Louisville and Auburn (Ia.).

This was believed to be similar to the estimated $25,000 plus five cents for each admission over one million that Richards received before leaving the Sox to become boss-man of the Orioles.

Castellani Favored Over Mims

CLEVELAND, Jan. 11 (AP)—Rocky Castellani and Holly Mims, each coveting Bobo Olson's Middleweight title, meet tomorrow night in a 12-round bout that may gain the winner a crack at it.

The fight, at Cleveland Arena, will be televised over the Columbia Broadcasting System network at 10 p.m. EST. Castellani is the No. 2 contender behind Joey Giardello, while Mims occupies the No. 3 position. Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, says the winner tomorrow night will be considered for an Olson title fight, along with Giardello and Charley Hunz.

Castellani, 27, goes into the fray tomorrow night a 6-5 favorite, although the odds are expected to be even by ring time.

On July 4, Brooklyn will play at Philadelphia, New York at Pittsburgh, St. Louis at Milwaukee and Cincinnati at Chicago.

In addition to the St. Louis-Cincinnati game, Labor Day twin-bills are listed between the Phillies and Dodgers at Brooklyn, the Pirates and Giants at New York and the Braves and Cubs at Chicago.

The All-Star game is scheduled for Milwaukee July 12. After the traditional three-day break, regular season competition resumes on July 14.

Erdelatz To Stick At Navy Post

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 11 (AP)—Eddie Erdelatz decided today to sail along for another five-year hitch with the Navy football team he restored to glory in his first tour as skipper.

The 41-year-old coach abruptly brought serenity to the Severn which has been flustered by reports he was shipping out to the Los Angeles Rams.

"I'm very happy and proud to continue as head football coach at the Naval Academy," he said in accepting the proffered five-year contract at a reported pay raise from $15,000 to $17,000.

To further emphasize his contentment, he said he'd like to stay on for as long as he coaches. "The way I feel, I'd like to end my head coaching career where it started."

The decision by Erdelatz to stick with Navy came as a surprise to many in the wake of reports he was offered twice as much money by the Rams.

But Erdelatz said that while he discussed the "possibilities of coaching the Rams" with Dan Reeves, the pro owner, "no commitments were made or agreed upon by either party."

Basketball Fan Sent To Jail

CHICAGO, Jan. 11 (AP)—Robert Gabe, 18-year-old high school student, today was sentenced to jail for 30 days for pummeling a rival player at a basketball game Friday night.

Gabe was found guilty by Judge Sigmund J. Stefanowicz in Municipal Court. The complainant, Robert Mankowski, 18, appeared in court with both eyes blackened and a fractured nose.

The beating occurred between halves of a Park League game.

He signed up today after a brief conference with General Manager Hank Greenberg, reportedly for about $12,000, the same figure he drew last season.

Last year he was plagued by two accidents—a broken finger and a pulled thigh muscle. Despite the mishaps, he finished the season with a .300 batting average, 102 runs batted in and 24 home runs.

"Bit I'm feeling great now," he said. "My leg is all right, my weight is good and my finger is loosening up."

Outfielder Al Smith also signed his contract today.

Bloomburg missed tying Clarion's league record of 111 points by taking the decision over Cheyney, 110-103. Indiana bettered Shippensburg, 76-46, while Clarion remained undefeated by beating Lock Haven Friday, 78-61.

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College is one of four teams beaten by Millersville. The Warriors have played only one conference game and rate far down the list at the present time.

Coulter Back With Giants

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP)—DeWitt (Tex) Coulter, the big tackle who quit the New York Football Giants two years ago to play in Canada, will return next season.

The Giants revealed today that Coulter had signed a 1955 contract. He recently announced his "retirement" from Canadian football to enter the construction business in Dallas, Tex.

Coulter is the second player from the Montreal Alouettes and the second "most valuable" player from the Big Four League to sign with the Giants within a short time. Alex Webster, the league's most valuable back signed 10 days ago.

Rosen Signs For Ninth Season

CLEVELAND, Jan. 11 (AP)—Al Rosen signed for his ninth season with the Cleveland Indians today and then dropped in at a downtown stockbroker's office, his other source of income.

"I look forward to having my best year in the majors," he told a reporter who reached him there by telephone. The 29-year-old third baseman doubles as a stockbroker in the off season and even on his free days during baseball time.

He signed up today after a brief conference with General Manager Hank Greenberg, reportedly for about $12,000, the same figure he drew last season.

Last year he was plagued by two accidents—a broken finger and a pulled thigh muscle. Despite the mishaps, he finished the season with a .300 batting average, 102 runs batted in and 24 home runs.

148 Graduate As Auxiliary Policemen

Stroudsburg, retired State trooper, who is county CD police coordinator.

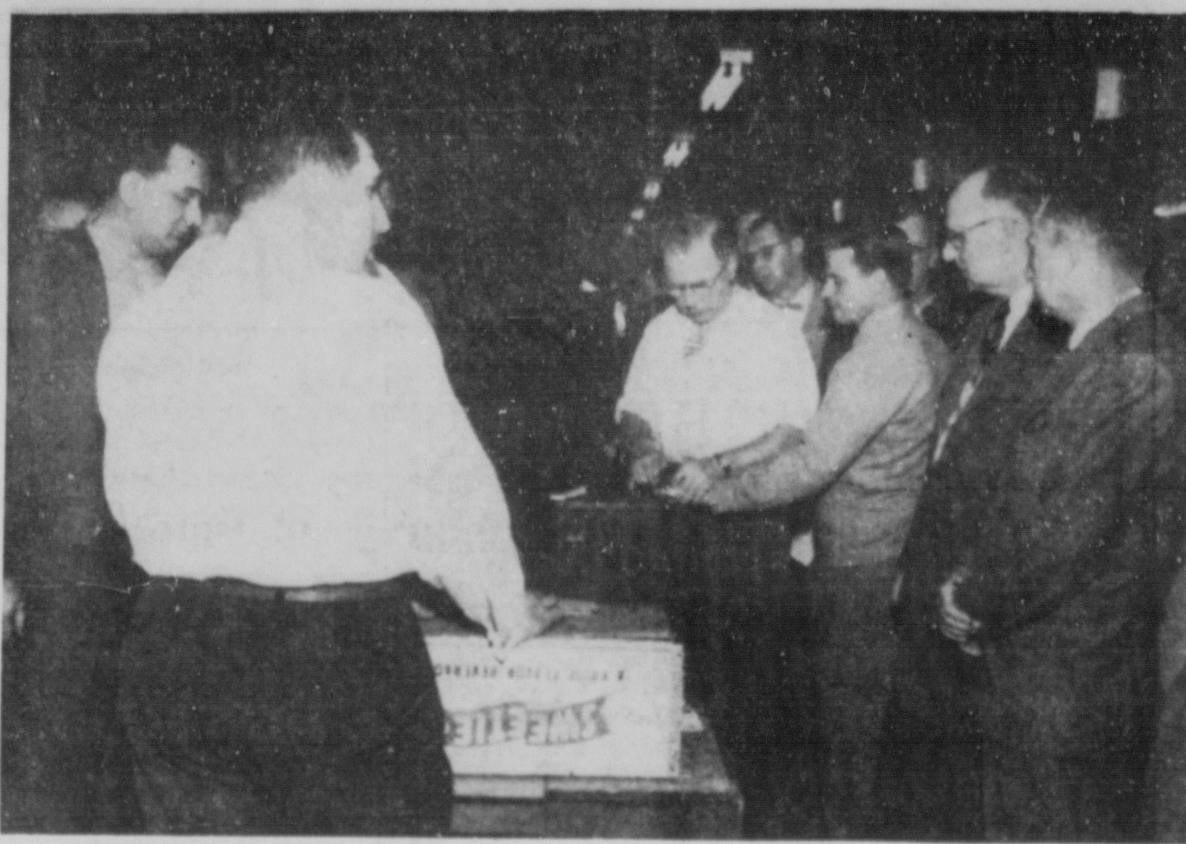

Main speaker was Capt. Emmett Donovan, Harrisburg, State CD police coordinator, who reported that last night's record-breaking class beat Honesdale's 102-member record by 46.

Dr. Raymond Hood, adviser to Alpha Phi Omega, Boy Scout fraternity chapter at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, addressed the class. Some of the members are Alpha Phi men who enrolled in the course.

The auxiliary policemen's chief duty will be to guard against sabotage on the vital bridges which form the link between Pennsylvania and New Jersey, in the event of disaster or all-out-war; and to protect the supplies of food, clothing and medical equipment and drugs which will be moved to and from the county in emergencies; to handle traffic flows, guide and direct refugee movements in event of bombings.

The graduates all spent three hours a night once a week for eight weeks in mastering fundamentals.

Executive Director Paul Crawn, who took part in last night's ceremonies, said application has already been made for a women's class in auxiliary police work; and that advanced courses in CD police work will be set up in the future.

FINGERPRINTING of 148 graduates of the Monroe County Civil Defense auxiliary police class in East Stroudsburg last night took quite a while. Onlookers at right are East Stroudsburg Burgess Jesse S. Flory and Monroe County CD executive director Paul M. Crawn. (Staff Photo by Olwyler)

AT THE LAST meeting of the Gap School board Henry Kulp was sworn in as a new member of the board.

Friends are glad to hear that both Frank Brodhead, who has been indisposed for some time, and Frank Howard, who was ill last week, are greatly improved in health.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Russell Maxwell were receiving congratulations Sunday morning after church services on their wedding anniversary Jan. 8. Mrs. Paul Maxwell (Margaret Maxwell) of Waring Enterprises was congratulated also on her birthday that day.

Mrs. Orien Lambert and Mrs.

Arthur Lehr were among the trainload of Monroe County folk who went on the recent Wyckoff excursion to New York City to take in the Christmas pageant and show at Radio City Music Hall.

Another former Gap resident, who wrote to friends after some years of silence, is Mrs. Florence Kirkton. The widow of Frank Kirkton, who for many years was railroad photographer and had a summer gift shop in the Gap, she now resides in Palm Beach, Fla.

4 MERCURY EXCLUSIVES FOR FINER V-8 PERFORMANCE

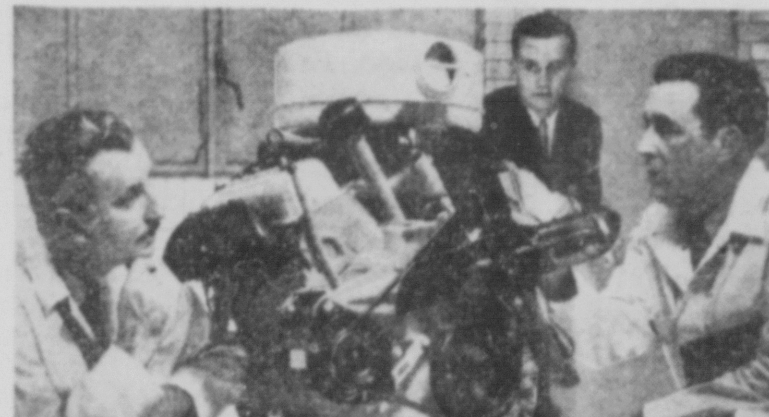

DUAL EXHAUST makes more of Mercury's power available to you for everyday driving. You have two separate exhaust systems for lower engine temperatures—resulting in greater efficiency and economy. Only Mercury Monterey and Montclair in their price class offer dual exhaust as standard equipment at no extra cost.

4-BARREL CARBURETOR gives you two-barrel economy for normal driving. But when an extra spurt of speed or hill-climbing power is needed, the extra 2 barrels cut in instantly, vacuumatically. Only Mercury in its field offers a 4-barrel carburetor as standard equipment on every model.

HIGH-COMPRESSION SPARK PLUGS—revolutionary new anti-fouling spark plugs designed for super high-compression engines—give peak performance at all speeds. No other spark plugs available as standard equipment can match this performance, and no other car in Mercury's field has them.

LONGER EXPERIENCE. Only Mercury among all cars has an exclusively V-8 history. New 188- and 198-hp SUPER-TORQUE V-8 engines are the latest and greatest Mercury developments. And Mercury has put over 2,000,000 proven V-8 engines on the road—more V-8's than any other car in its price class.

NEW 1955 MERCURYS offer high horsepower (188 and 198)—new SUPER-TORQUE V-8 design—for super-pickup in every speed range.
